Millie Kruger lies dead in the Morgue, but her white face is always before the eyes of a wealtny man of this city. He sees her, asleep or awake. Above the roar of business in the streets he hears her voice, pleading with him to right a wrong by the only method that would allow her to regain in a measure her lost sense of self-respect.

The initials of this man are "J. B. R.," and Millie Kruger, left him a legacy that will cling to his memory to the day of his death. It is a note written just before she committed suicide in Central Park a week ago to-day. There are seven words in the note, but in these seven words is compressed a history of shame and overwhelming remorse that is as old as the history of the world. The note reads. "I. B. R .- Don't forget what you have done to M. K."

Since the girl has been identified the story of what drove her to selfdestruction has been picked up. It is known that the girl begged the man to make her his wife after she learned that her condition could no longer be hidden. It is known that he refused. He is a man of wealth and social position. She was a manicure. He would have given her money and sent her away. Had she accepted the money and passed out of his life memory of her would have died. But she chose a way to sear her name upon his

> Oiseau at Odds On Captures Golden Rod Stakes on Grass from Pasadena and Waterside-Brush Up Gets Home in the First by a Head.

(Special to The Evening World.)
RACE TRACK, SHEEPSHEAD BAY. Y., Sept. 9.—The Omnium Handicap. at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon, was won by Colonial Girl. This filly came on from the West heralded as a great racehorse. She started a few days ago.

was evidence of much activity in the to 1 and was backed down to 5 to 1. She breezed in front all the way.

That is racing at Sheepshead, and that is perhaps one reason why at-

and had no speed. The betting indicated that she had practically no sup-hot favorite, and it was due really to his rider, that he won. Olseau was ney C. Love 3. first into the stretch, where Pasadena ralled him. Then Lyne did the natural thing. He went to the whip.

He found Olseau so well he at once a length to 5 an put up his whip and went back to a (H. Mic strong hand ride. Under this Olseau 1.08 1-5. a strong hand ride. Under this Oiseau regained his lost ground and nailing Pasadena aga'n won by a head.

Brush Up won the opening dash, serarbiling home a head from Fleur de Marie, the favorite. Brush Up had more speed than in her last race when the was beaten off. The second race was an easy victory for Ormondes, Right. That was the one that carried the money, Jack Martin rode the favorite. Wild Thyme, who was second.

Brush Up by a fixed.

FOURTH RACE—One mile; purse 1200, for three-year-olds.—Reservation, 1200, for three-year-old Oiseau was always the (avorite, with Waterside a strong second choice. Waterside went to the front right after the start, but was soon outrun by Oiseau, who made the running to the stretch, where Passadena closed. From the head of the stretch home it was a red hot drive, Oiseau winning by a head from Passadena, who beat Waterside ten-lengths.

Dainty and Proper were hot choices in the Cmplum Handicap, but the peaches and creum was Colonial Girl, who had no speed in her last race worth mentioning. This was the day for her, however. She was backed from 8 to 1 to 5 to 1, made all the running and won breesing by three-quarters of a length from Hurstbourne, who was second all the way. He beat Dolly Spanker a tength and a half for the place. Gunfire, who ovened second choice, was miserably ridden by Shaw.

Eagle Wins Easily. Garnish raced to the front and was ridden to death. He quit at the end of aix furionss. Eagle, who had been second, then took the lead and won easily by three lengths from The Southerner, who came on and finished strong, beating Aurumaster a length and a half for the place.
